

LAND TEAM – TEAM MEET REPORT

S.Seetha lekshmi,

I will confirm that 9-01-10 as a very lucky day, because I got a lot of information about science. For this I will, I must thank our team doctor Jayalal sir for giving us this golden opportunity to visit their hospital (Annamal Hospital). The hospital was so neat and hygienic and I will say that it is the best example for a hospital.

At about 2.30 we started our programme. Velaian sir advised us to be active and he asked us to make our own team to a good level, he also asked us to arrange for a talk about the problems of earth, to give the awareness among the people during coastal Environmental study tour. The first informative speech was given by Jerlin Priya ma'am, Principal of Annamal College of Nursing. She explained us about various departments in their college and about nursing. She said that nowadays nursing is a profession. There are various departments for each year such as

- i.. Medical & Surgical Nursing.
- ii Child Health Nursing
- iii Maternity Nursing
- iv Community Health Nursing
- v Psychiatry Nursing etc.

Then we ere provided with tea and refreshments. After that we could witness a live surgery also. She also took us to various labs in their college and explained us very well about them.

Dr.Jayalal spent his precious time with us. He also asked us about the interesting topic which we are interested. He gave us information about waste management in hospital. He said that about 75% of the hospital waste is common home waste and only 15% of plastic waste is of inorganic things such as syringes needles etc, Antiseptics such as expired drugs and other organic waste like tissues , placenta, cut off body parts etc. He said that they will normally separate these wastes and they will dispose these different wastes in different manner.

And at about 5 o clock we finished our programme.
